

The Annual CN Awards

2024 SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Recognising excellence & achievement in clinical, medical & health nutrition

The Annual CN Awards

Successfully launched in 2010, the annual CN Awards encompasses 11 award categories, recognising the achievements of those whose work has made a significant difference within the nutrition industry – whether as an individual, group or organisation.

The annual CN Awards represent an outstanding promotional opportunity for companies active within the industry. Indeed, those opting to sponsor a category benefit from comprehensive coverage in CN Magazine, CN e-news, across our social media platforms and via: nutrition2me.com from November 2023 until November 2024.

The CN Award categories

Social Media Personality of the Year

A nutrition professional running their own blog, holding a Twitter chat, or operating a LinkedIn or Facebook group providing credible, evidence-based nutrition information – a personality that really stands out from the rest.

Nutrition Resource of the Year

A public body/charity/industry resource that readers have utilised and found extremely valuable throughout their practice – e.g. website, educational tool, practical tool.

Student of the Year

A student that has excelled during their studies, has attained a specific notable achievement, or gone beyond what is expected of them as part of their course or placement (during 2023/24) – a student that stands out from the rest.

“The Nutricia Homeward team are delighted to once again sponsor The Geoff Simmonett ‘Commitment to Patient Care’ Award. Recognising a colleague as a true patient advocate, continually improving patients experience and empowering patients and their carers is a fantastic way to appreciate someone who regularly goes above and beyond, continually raising the bar and setting high standards for others to follow. If you know someone worthy of this recognition, please make sure you complete the nomination form, so others can be inspired and learn from their successes. We look forward to celebrating the continued success of the CN Awards.”

Nicola Wayne – Senior Brand Manager Nutricia Homeward

Community Nutrition Professional of the Year

A community nutrition professional who has gone above and beyond what is expected of them in their day-to-day role – this could include: taking on additional duties, running a specific project/research or charitable work.

Clinical Nutrition Professional of the Year

A clinical nutrition professional who has gone above and beyond what is expected of them in their day-to-day role – this could include: taking on additional duties, running a specific project/research or charitable work.

Paediatric Nutrition Professional of the Year

A paediatric nutrition professional who has gone above and beyond what is expected of them in their day-to-day role – this could include: taking on additional duties, running a specific project/research or charitable work.

New Product of the Year

Nominations will be sought from companies who have launched a new product during 2023/24 – nominations are also welcome for relaunched and reformulated products. Nominated products can include a clinical product (e.g. oral nutritional supplement, parenteral nutrition product) or a food product with a specific health claim.

The Geoff Simmonett 'Commitment to Patient Care' Award

First awarded to Geoff Simmonett, who sadly passed away in 2010, for his huge contribution and dedication to the work of 'Patients on Intravenous and Nasogastric Nutrition Therapy' (PINNT), this Award recognises the work of an individual who has shown exceptional determination, dedication and compassion during patient-focused nutrition support.

CN Writer of the Year

The CN Team will be considering all articles that have been included within CN (during 2023/24) that have captured the essence and purpose of CN – to provide the reader with an educative, informative, practical and topical read.

Outstanding Achievement Award

This prestigious Award will be given to an individual or professional group/body who has made an outstanding contribution to clinical, medical or health nutrition throughout their time within the arena.

Sustainability Initiative Award

Making healthcare more sustainable and reducing its impact on the environment is now more important than ever, and this Award aims to recognise a professional or group for their work in this area. Examples of this may include, but are not limited to, digitalising healthcare, locally sourcing goods and produce, implementing wellbeing initiatives to improve staff retention, or streamlining services. This Award is open to nominations from practicing healthcare professionals, the NHS or private healthcare providers, and educational and research institutions.
