

The Nutrition
Society

The Nutrition Society Academy

Have you subscribed yet?

A new year always makes us reflect on past achievements and future goals, making it the perfect time to invest in your career ambitions. Whether thinking about your final year dissertation, or that big promotion, we can help you with that.

The Nutrition Society Academy is the home of evidence-based nutritional science and professional development. Every webinar and training course is presented by the leading experts in the field – it was built to support you to power up your career! If you haven't subscribed to the Academy yet, here is a reminder of the superb benefits you receive when you subscribe.

The Academy platform, known to subscribers as the 'Netflix for nutrition', boasts over 85 webinar and course titles on a range of topics covering nutritional science, science and professional skills, and transitioning research to practice.

As an Academy subscriber, you will have access to:

- The latest evidence-based nutritional science from world leading experts
- Training that's endorsed by globally recognised organisations for your continued professional development (CPD)
- Personalised certificates on the completion of every webinar or course, that can even be shared directly to your social media accounts.

Ready to subscribe?

Prices start from as little as £4.99 per month, with discounts for low-income countries and Nutrition Society Members. Sign up here:

<https://nutritionandsociety.academy>

If you haven't signed up to the Nutrition Society Academy yet, our subscribers would say that you are missing out!

"I think it is a great opportunity to enhance your knowledge with up-to-date evidence-based information, which comes in combination with an expert opinion."

"Nutrition Society Academy subscription is definitely a valuable investment in your personal professional development."

Looking to disseminate your research?

We know that it can be difficult to know where to disseminate your work credibly and effectively. With hundreds of nutritionists, dietitians, healthcare professionals and medics subscribed to the Academy, you can accelerate the impact of your research through our global subscribers.

Share your research!

Applying is quick and easy with a short form to complete. Your presentation will be confirmed within two weeks, and you can record at a date and time that suits you with our easy-to-use software.

Once you have recorded your webinar, it will be promoted to our members along with the 120,000 followers on our social media platforms.

Ready to apply?

Apply via: <https://nutritionandsociety.academy/instructor-application/>

If you have any queries or want to discuss the Academy, contact us at: academy@nutritionandsociety.org.

Upcoming events

Winter Conference 2025: Dietary guidelines and advice – current and future

21-22 January 2025, The Royal Society, London

Website: www.nutritionandsociety.org/events/winter-conference-2025-dietary-guidelines-and-advice-current-and-future

1st International Nutrition Symposium on Obesity

30-31 January 2025, Sorbonne University, Paris, France

Website: <https://colloquium.idloom.events/25ISO>

Irish Postgraduate Conference

26-28 February 2025, Belfast, Northern Ireland

Website: www.nutritionandsociety.org/events/irish-postgraduate-conference-2025

